It's your move

The pages of this yearbook contain our past. Before you are a collection of memories spanning over a period of four years, from the day we came together in the unknown until the time where we once again embark on a journey that will take us to another place with new people and unforeseen adventures. But among this past is also a future; a future that we have carved for ourselves through our choices.

Our friends, families, teachers, and coaches have all helped guide us and shape us, but ultimately it is our own decisions that form our character. Our choices have transformed us from who we were to who we are. No one can mold you or change you. It is up to you do develop yourself into the person you want to be, the person you will be. It's your move.

From here, we must act on our own. We must learn from what we have done and who we have been. We must not be afraid of what lies before us, but take comfort that this is not the first time we have been unsure about the future. Just as we entered the unknown four years ago, so we must also be prepared to move on and take our energies, talents, and good judgment with us. "To go forward is to move toward perfection. March on, and fear not the thorns or the sharp stones on life's path."

And so I dare you to move. Go forward without reservation but with the knowledge that only we can determine the extent of our greatness, the impact that we will have on the world. Your journey can end here; the extent of your development chronicled in this book. Or you can go on from here and continue to grow, continue to move forward into the unknown with the belief that you can do anything you put your mind to and become whoever you want to be. It's your move.

Each person has an ideal, a hope, a dream of some sort which represents his soul. In the long light of eternity this seed of the future is all that matters! We must find this seed no matter how small it is; we must give to it the warmth of love, the light of understanding and the water of encouragement. We must learn to deal with people as they are - not as we wish them to be. We must study the moral values which shape our thinking, arouse our emotions and guide our conduct. We must get acquainted with our inner stream and find out what's going on in our heads and hearts. We must put an end to blind, instinctive, sensory thought and feeling. We must take time to be human.

There are things that we never want to let go of, people we never want to leave behind. But keep in mind that letting go isn't the end of the world, it's the beginning of a new life.

Never let go of hope. One day you will see that it all has finally come together. What you have always wished for has finally come to be. You will look back and laugh at what has passed and you will ask yourself... 'How did I get through all of that?'

Growing up is never easy. You hold on to things that were. You wonder what's to come. But that night, I think we knew it was time to let go of what had been, and look ahead to what would be. Other days. New days. Days to come. The thing is, we didn't have to hate each other for getting older. We just had to forgive ourselves... for growing up.

The Wonder Years

One day at a time--this is enough. Do not look back and grieve over the past for it is gone; and do not be troubled about the future, for it has not yet come. Live in the present, and make it so beautiful it will be worth remembering.

THE HARDEST PART ABOUT GROWING UP IS LETTING GO WITH WHAT YOU HAVE BEEN ACCUSTOMED TO AND MOVING ON WITH SOMETHING THAT YOU HAVEN'T EXPERIENCED YET.

The most beautiful discovery true friends make is that they can grow separately without growing apart.

Elisabeth Foley

This is my wish for you: Comfort on difficult days, smiles when sadness intrudes, rainbows to follow the clouds, laughter to kiss your lips, sunsets to warm your heart, hugs when spirits sag, beauty for your eyes to see, friendships to brighten your being, faith so that you can believe, confidence for when you doubt, courage to know yourself, patience to accept the truth, Love to complete your life.

Clubs

"No man or woman is an island. To exist just for yourself is meaningless. You can achieve the most satisfaction when you feel related to some greater purpose in life, something greater than yourself."

Underclassmen

A black and white photograph of a group of students walking outdoors. In the foreground, a boy in a light-colored t-shirt and shorts is walking towards the left. Behind him, several girls are walking in the same direction. They are all wearing light-colored t-shirts, some of which have text on them. The background is slightly blurred, showing what appears to be a school building and some trees.

"Success seems to be connected with action. Successful people keep moving. They make mistakes, but they don't quit."

*dreams come true. Don't forget where your home is.
God Bless You,
Your Family*

Dear Sal,

You have become a determined, strong young man. You have a gift of gab with a twinkle in your eye and you always believe you have the "right" answer.

But, more than those qualities, we see a young man with a huge heart! You have succeeded and done your best in spite of what life has handed you. Many people would stop when they see a roadblock...you have found a way around it and continued on your journey.

But, more than what you have done for yourself, it's what you do for others. You are always there to help your teammates, friends, parish and community. You have overcome a great deal these last few years and we could not be prouder of your strength and faith!

Much love and admiration, Sweetheart. Go, learn, experience and have fun!

Love, Dad, Mom, Mike, and Jon

In the beginning of your Fenwick expeience, everything was unsure. But after 4 years you showed how you grabbed that challenge and made it a complete success. This is what you do best and that's why when going into your College years the result will be the same. Successful! You're a kind-hearted person and have impeccable work ethics; these traits will carry you on for the rest of your life.
